NATIONAL SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING PREVENTION MONTH

CALENDAR OF ACTIVITIES

JANUARY 2021

(ALL PROGRAMS LISTED ARE IN EASTERN TIME AND ARE FREE TO ATTEND)

THE ROTARY CLUB OF TALLAHASSEE - PROTECTING YOUTH FROM HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Date: Wednesday, January 6, 2021, Noon – 1:00 p.m.

Location: Online via Zoom

Description: “Operation Innocence,” a coordinated local, state and federal sting operation, here in Tallahassee resulted in the arrest of over 170 people in a child sex trafficking network. We know that traffickers target children online and since the advent of COVID-19, these youth are even more vulnerable to being both sex and labor trafficked. What can we do to make sure that youth are protected from being trafficked, especially online? What else do we need to know and take action to collaborate to stop human trafficking? This lunch presentation will address these issues and more. Presenters: Marina Anderson, Florida Department of Children and Families Regional Human Trafficking Coordinator for NE and NW Regions and Robin Hassler Thompson, Exec. Dir., The Survive and Thrive Advocacy Center (STAC)

Sponsor and Host: The Rotary Club of Tallahassee

Cost: Free

HUMAN TRAFFICKING IN THE HOSPITALITY INDUSTRY

Date: Wednesday, January 13, 2021, 3 p.m. – 4 p.m.

Location: Online webinar

Description: The hospitality industry is one of places where traffickers commonly exploit victims for both labor and sex. Trafficking victims can be hidden from plain sight and not recognized as victims, unless hotel guests and staff learn the signs of a potential trafficking situation. Staff in the hospitality industry must be able to recognize the signs and be prepared to act if they observe a potential human trafficking situation in their establishment. After completing this training, participants will understand the definitions of both labor and sex trafficking and relevant state and federal laws, will be able to recognize the signs and will know how to report human trafficking. Presenter: Marina Anderson, Florida Department of Children and Families Regional Human Trafficking Coordinator for Northeast and Northwest Regions.

HUMAN TRAFFICKING AND WORKING WITH OUR NEIGHBOR: GEORGIA'S ANTI-TRAFFICKING INITIATIVES

Date: Friday, January 15, 2021, 11- 12:30 p.m.

Location: Online webinar

Description: The Georgia state line is less than 30 minutes from many of us in North Florida, making it of great value to learn from our neighbor to the north about how we can collaborate to prevent human trafficking, protect victims, and bring traffickers to justice. This presentation will introduce you to Georgia's anti-human trafficking work and feature presenters who are experts in state and local anti-trafficking efforts. Topics will include protective responses to child sex and labor trafficking (and Georgia's recent work with local Child Advocacy Centers and youth who are victims of child sexual exploitation and trafficking), recent findings and recommendations from a new report on labor trafficking, and how we can assist one another in our anti-trafficking advocacy and survivor support. All BBCAHT members, anti-trafficking advocates and service providers, local task forces and coalitions, child welfare agencies, law enforcement, attorneys, the faith community and many more can benefit greatly to know about Georgia's work and how we can coordinate to assist and support trafficking survivors. At the end of the formal presentation, there will be an informal discussion and time for questions. Presenters: Erica Mortonson, LCSW, Human Trafficking Unit Supervisor, and Elina Acosta, Human Trafficking Planner and Policy Development Specialist, GA Criminal Justice Coordinating Council; Victor Williams, Coordinator, GA Coalition to Combat Human Trafficking.

HUMAN TRAFFICKING AND THE LAW: LOOKING THROUGH A WIDER LENS

Date: Thursday, January 21, 2021, 11:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m.

Location: Online

Description: What is the role of the private sector in addressing and helping to end human trafficking? What roles do we play as attorneys in civil practice, business owners and leaders, and consumers? What role does government play and is there a place for public/private partnership and collaboration in addressing the eradication of both sex and labor trafficking? And what about the “supply chains” of goods and services – how can we work to make sure that enslaved people have not produced the food we eat and other goods and services we rely on? These questions and more will be the focus of this program. Featured Speakers, Barbara Martinez, of Holland & Knight, former Assistant U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of Florida and FSU College of Law Human Trafficking and Exploitation Law Project.

LABOR TRAFFICKING: THE STORY OF IMMIGRANT SURVIVORS

Date: Thursday, January 28, 2021, 10 a.m. – 11 a.m.

Location: Online via Zoom

Description: The IRC and STAC provide services to domestic and foreign-born survivors of human trafficking. The IRC's unique experience in working with diverse immigrant and refugee communities provides the context for this conversation to explore the many ways immigrants are victimized by human trafficking. This program will explore the specific subject of labor trafficking and its prevalence in the rural regions of the state and discuss issues surrounding supply chains and consumer support for trafficking-free goods and services.
