

Sex and labor trafficking are happening in our community.

You can help stop it by learning the signs and partnering with STAC.

Someone may be a victim of sex or labor trafficking if:

- 1 They are not allowed to take adequate breaks, eat or drink at work.
- 2 They are a minor who is homeless or not living with relatives.
- 3 They have confusing or contradicting stories.
- 4 They are depressed or anxious.
- 5 They have signs of physical or sexual abuse (bruising, burns, dental issues, STDs).

Source: NHTTAC

The Survive and Thrive Advocacy Center provides direct support to survivors and can assist with housing, counseling, employment and more.

We also provide training and education on how to recognize, report and prevent human trafficking. We've worked with healthcare and child welfare professionals, law enforcement, educators, faith communities, and not-for-profit organizations.

Stand with survivors by scheduling a customized training session today.

(850) 597-2080

SurviveAndThriveAdvocacy.org

